The Rosalynn Carter Fellowships for Mental Health Journalism

Application Information 2016–2017

What the Fellowships Offer

- Professional development: Opportunities to train in behavioral health reporting and access to expert advisers
- Community: A network of 150+ former fellows
- Stipend: $10,000 (or country equivalent) unrestricted funds
- Flexibility: Nonresident fellowship, manage your own timeline
- Unique projects: Select your own topic of interest and form of media

Eligibility Requirements

- 3+ years of professional journalism experience
- Submit online application, recommendation letters, and letter of support
- Required attendance at the September training meeting at beginning and end of fellowship year
- Citizen/legal resident of the United States or Colombia

Application Deadline

April 6, 2016

All applications must be submitted online at http://mhjapply.cartercenter.org

The goal of the Rosalynn Carter Fellowships for Mental Health Journalism is to enhance public understanding of mental health issues by supporting journalists to produce high-quality reporting. Working journalists tackle timely topics in the field of mental health.